

Section C -- Unemployment and Sickness Benefits

This section presents data on unemployment and sickness benefits paid to qualified railroad employees under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act. Railroad unemployment and sickness benefits, by law, are based on a July-June benefit year. Therefore, railroad unemployment and sickness insurance benefit operations are presented on a benefit year basis, rather than on a fiscal year basis.

Normal benefits of each type may be paid for as many as 130 days in a period of 26 or more weeks but may not exceed the total creditable base year compensation of the beneficiary. After exhaustion of normal benefits, an employee with 10 or more years of railroad service may receive additional benefits in an extended benefit period provided he(she) has not voluntarily retired, has not left work without good cause (for unemployment benefits only), and is less than 65 years old (for sickness benefits only). Extended benefits may be paid in a 13-week period to those with 10 to 14 years of service, and a 26-week period to those with 15 years of service. Title V of the Emergency Unemployment Compensation Act of 1991, provided extended unemployment benefits to claimants with less than 10 years of service and additional benefits to those with 10-14 years.

An employee was qualified for benefit year 1995-96 if in the preceding calendar (base) year his(her) compensation for railroad work, excluding earnings over $840 a month, was $2,100 or more. Additionally, if the employee was a new entrant to the industry in the base year, he(she) must have had at least five months of service in that year. For a long-service employee (one with 10 or more years of railroad service) a benefit year could be started early if he(she) was not currently qualified but would be qualified for the next benefit year. Also, an extended benefit period could continue beyond the usual June 30 ending date of a benefit year and thus extend the duration of the employee's benefit year. Therefore, the tables in this section on payments for unemployment and sickness that occurred during the July 1995 - June 1996 period include benefits that technically were payable in extensions of the 1994-95 benefit year or accelerations of the 1996-97 benefit year as well as those payable for the general benefit year (1995-96).

Table C1 shows the principal figures for operations in benefit year 1995-96 and other recent years. Figures in this table refer to payments made and other administrative actions taken under the unemployment and sickness programs during the designated benefit year. Table C2 presents administrative data on placements of unemployment claimants in the past five benefit years. Table C3 provides various unemployment and sickness benefit and beneficiary data for benefit years 1939-40 through 1995-96. Tables C4 through C8 contain benefit data for unemployment and sickness which occurred in claim periods paid during the particular benefit years stated in the table headings or to which reference is made in the footnotes. Table C9 is a graph of unemployment and sickness beneficiaries by month for benefit year 1995-96. Table C10 shows the distribution of experience based contribution rates, by number of employers, for 1996.

Payments for maternity under a separate program were discontinued by amendments adopted in 1968. However, provision was made for payment of sickness benefits to female employees prevented from working because of pregnancy or childbirth. The sickness benefit data in this section include such payments, but in table C3 payments under the separate maternity program are excluded from data for benefit years prior to 1968-69.

The unemployment and sickness beneficiary tables for benefit year 1995-96 include all payments made by June 30, 1996. Figures on the number of qualified employees for benefit year 1995-96 (shown in table C1 and used in computing beneficiary rates appearing in a number of other tables) are based on universe data.

The most important qualifications of the data for each table are shown in footnotes to the table. Certain general information and definitions of terminology are as follows:

1. Unemployment and sickness tables contain data based on universe counts.
2. Benefits are paid for compensable days of unemployment or sickness at a daily rate equal to 60 percent of the employee's last daily rate of pay in the base year, subject to a $36.00 maximum and a $12.70 minimum in benefit year 1995-96.

<sup>2</sup> Compensable days data was first used in benefit year 1986-87. Previous years data refers to creditable days.

by benefit year, 1939-40 through 1995-96 - Continued

<sup>5</sup> Number of beneficiaries in 1967-68, 1970-71, 1971-72, and 1972-73 include those whose only unemployment benefits resulted from brief major strikes; except for the total amount of benefits, all other data relate to the remaining beneficiaries who were paid for regular unemployment. These numbered 93,600 in 1967-68, 99,800 in 1970-71, 117,400 in 1971-72 and 64,000 in 1972-73.

<sup>6</sup> Includes benefits under Title V of the Emergency Unemployment Compensation Act of 1991, as amended, which provided extended unemployment benefits paid to claimants with less than 10 years of service and additional extended benefits to those with 10-14 years.

<sup>7</sup> Sickness data exclude benefits not payable because of concurrent entitlement to other social insurance benefits or because of receipt of a personal injury settlement.

NOTE.--Data based on sample tabulations through 1974-75 and total counts thereafter. Data include all unemployment and sickness in claims periods begun in the year. For this reason, and because adjustments of benefit amounts have occurred after tabulating cutoff dates, the total amounts of benefits differ substantially from the figures in Tables A1 and C1. Payments for extended benefit periods are included, except as noted, in figures for unemployment starting with 1957-58 and in figures for sickness starting with 1968-69. Maternity benefits are excluded from sickness data for years prior to 1968-69. Beginning in benefit year 1986-87 the table was compiled using different source materials than those used in previous years.
